

F.S. Kelly

F.S. Kelly was in the Royal Naval Division

He was born in Sydney, Australia.

He was very good at rowing and won an Olympic medal.

He was a musician and composer.

He helped to teach the band at Blandford Forum Camp.

He went to Gallipoli with the poet Rupert Brooke.

Kelly

was very

upset

when

Rupert Brooke

died.

He

wrote

some

music

to

remember

him.

Kelly

was

wounded

2x

twice

at Gallipoli.

He

was given

a

medal

for bravery.

Kelly

was

killed

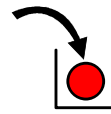

at

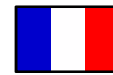

a

battle

in France.

A violinist

played

some

of his music

at

the funeral.

Supported by The National Lottery
through the Heritage Lottery Fund

