

Ude Singh

14th

Ude Singh belonged to the 14th Sikh Regiment

He was very tall and had a beard.

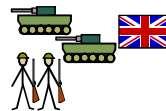

He wore a turban instead of a helmet.

He had been a wrestler and was very strong.

14th

The 14th Sikh Regiment fought with the British at Krithia.

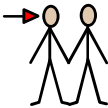

They were attacked by Turkish artillery.

There were  very  many  casualties.

 Only  two  officers  were not  killed  or  very  badly  wounded.

    Ude Singh went back to rescue Second Lieutenant Savory.

      Ude carried Savory to safety through the fighting.

    They became friends after the war.
